Read today for 30 minutes and fill in your planner. When you have completed a book, then complete the quiz. You can access AR Reader and quizzes online whilst at home. Choose another book within your range using AR Bookfinder to check the level. Record in your diary how much you have read. Email me and tell me when you finish a book and what you thought of it.

Please make sure that you are taking a quiz when you finish your book. Get Reading and Get Testing! If anyone is short of books to read, please email me on: mrswalker@alsagerhighfields.cheshire.sch.uk

Spellings

This week think of ten words that you often spell incorrectly in your writing and practise them. Choose words that you use regularly and make the same mistake with. Try to think of a mnemonic or another way of remembering the word. Can you remember lots of you kept writing believe rather than believe?

Times Tables

This week enjoy practising what you have learned on TTRS.

A Different Experience

Lockdown has been a quite different experience for all of us and for many of you. Your parents will have been amazing, trying to juggle home learning with their own jobs. You have been amazing doing the home learning, being strict enough with yourself to do it rather than being distracted by other activities around the house, and many of you have been able to do it independently sometimes as adults can be busy.

There must have been many memorable moments though that you have either been able to share or just kept and thought to yourself. Today, sit and think for a while about everything you have achieved, enjoyed, and shared.

Make a note of it - you have made history!
